The JIVD and ERCA organizations are delighted to announce that their third joint meeting will take place in Lyon, France from the 15th to the 17th of March 2018.

The previous meetings in 2012 (Barcelona) and 2015 (Lyon) were very successful with more than 1500 participants from 32 countries. As usual we expect the next meeting to be a convivial gathering of great scientific and professional interest to all health professionals working in respiratory care from the acute setting to home mechanical ventilation; physicians, allied health professionals, technicians, and home care providers. It will also give the opportunity to share experiences with the patients, the manufacturers and medical suppliers. We have been able to benefit from the input of an international advisory board to elaborate this preliminary program which also incorporates the suggestions we have collected from participants of the previous meetings. Our goal is, as always, to promote knowledge and understanding of respiratory concerns in order to ensure optimal care for respiratory patients. Three main driving forces will be reinforced: patients' experience, innovative technology and improvement in delivery of care. Audience participation will also be very much encouraged using various means of interactive technology. New in 2018: courses for "beginners" on Thursday morning, March 15th.

More than 65 sessions will take place during the three days of the conference and we rely on your participation to make the most of this platform for exchanging knowledge and expertise for the benefit of all.

We look forward to welcoming you again in Lyon, classified as a UNESCO World Heritage site, a city of charm with many assets for you to discover - www.lyon-france.fr !

See you in 2018!

K. Grant (ERCA, President), P. Léger (JIVD, President) and the Executive Committee
